REGIONAL TRAINING PROVIDER

REGIONAL TRAINING PROVIDERS HERE TO HELP

National Sporting Authorities (ASNs) from Australia, Germany, Mexico, Spain, UAE and UK have already proved themselves at the highest levels of motor sport. Now they're passing on their knowledge, expertise and experience to other countries to help raise the standards of motor sport officiating around the globe.

These Regional Training Providers (RTPs) are ASNs that have been accredited by the FIA Institute at the highest level for achieving best practice in motor sport marshalling and training. Each RTP is qualified to train other ASNs around the world, with financial support from the Motor Sport Safety Development Fund.

As part of the FIA Institute's Officials Safety Training Programme, ASNs can apply for grants from the Fund that will help them raise the standards of motor sport marshalling in their country, and in many cases these projects can be carried out with support from an RTP.

Contact them today.

ASNs now have a variety of training providers to choose from:
