The following is a description of the procedures international media personnel must follow in order to get a Chinese media visa.

Please note that the visa only authorizes reporting from Shanghai International Circuit concerning the F1 UBS Chinese Grand Prix 2013. If media representatives wish to conduct any other reporting than the one applied for, they will have to apply again to their nominated Chinese embassy or consulate.

Please follow the procedures to obtain a Chinese Media Visa:

1. Please complete the attached “Visa Information List” and return it to the following email address. Information will only be accepted from Feb.25th .
No submission after April 2nd will be accepted.

Email: mediavisa@jussevent.com

Contacts:

Sissi

Desk Line: + 86-21-6333 9393 Ext. 355

Email: limq@jussevent.com

2. Please ensure that all information provided on the form is as accurate as possible in order to avoid any delay of the application. First and last names must be the official and complete ones as given in your passport. Please fill your full name in the visa information list. You also need to indicate the Chinese visa-issuing consulate or embassy most convenient for you to go to in person and apply for the visa. Once you have nominated the consulate or embassy, any further changes will unfortunately delay the application process.

Please fill in your full contact details, so that the circuit can contact you immediately should there be any need to double check any of the information you have provided.

Once the embassy/consulate is ready to proceed with the application the circuit will notify the applicant by email. However, the applicant still needs to go through the specific procedure at their nominated embassy/consulate and will not be able to just go there to pick up the processed visa. The process may take some days. As the issuance of the media visa is at the sole discretion of the embassy/consulate, media have to follow their instructions and must consult them immediately should there be any confusion or problems during the process.
