MODIFICATIONS (in red) TO THE SPORTING REGULATIONS OF THE 2013 FIA EUROPEAN RALLYCROSS CHAMPIONSHIP

(as agreed by the FIA Off-Road Commission on proposals from the FIA/IMG Championship Committee and as unanimously accepted by the permanent competitors entered in the Championship)

10.2 Tyres

10.2.3

The number of tyres presented for registration by the scrutineers is limited to eight (8) per SuperCar driver for each event. ~~Super1600 and TouringCar drivers are limited to six (6) tyres in the first event of the Championship they participate in and four (4) for subsequent events.~~ These tyres cannot be transferred to another driver.

10.2.4

~~Super1600 and TouringCar drivers are limited to six (6) tyres in the first event of the Championship they participate in and four (4) for subsequent events. These tyres cannot be transferred to another driver. Used tyres, marked for a driver's own use in a previous event, may be used freely during the entire event.~~

10.2.5

Wet-weather tyres are limited in number and can only be used when the "WET RACE" board is displayed by the race director. The number of tyres presented for registration by the Scrutineers is limited to eight (8) per driver and per event ~~five (5) per driver for the first event in which he takes part. No extra wet-weather tyres will be registered during the entire season, except in case of rain in a subsequent event.~~

~~In such a case, each driver who used his wet-weather tyres in the subsequent event may register four (4) more wet-weather tyres.~~ These tyres cannot be transferred to another driver during the event.

16 Parc Fermé

16.2

Only those cars having taken part in the Semi-Finals and Finals must be taken by the drivers to Parc Fermé immediately after the last Race for which the driver qualified, except for cars not having completed the Race. The cars shall remain in the Parc Fermé for at least 30 minutes after the publication of the provisional results and until released by decision of the stewards of the event. In this area, it is forbidden to make any repair to the vehicle or to carry out refuelling.

15.5 Qualifying Heats

15.5.6

The starting grid of each Race should be organised on the same basis: each Race with a least 5 cars, except for the first two Races which will be for the slowest (or, in the 1st Heat, last drawn) drivers.

In the 1st Heat, the first five drivers in the draw will start in the last Race, the second five drivers the penultimate Race, and so on. From the 2nd Heat, the starting grid will be determined as above, but using the result of the previous Heat instead of the drawn positions; the fastest five drivers in the last Race, the next five in the penultimate Race, etc.

If upon the composition of the first two Races the total number of cars remaining is between 6 and 9, there will be two Races, ~~where the drivers classified in even positions in the previous Heat (or, for the 1st heat, the draw) will start in the first Race and drivers classified in odd positions will start in the second Race as follows:~~
9 cars: slowest (or last drawn) four in the first Race, next five in the second Race;
8 cars: slowest (or last drawn) three in the first Race, next five in the second Race;
7 cars: slowest (or last drawn) three in the first Race, next four in the second Race;
6 cars: slowest (or last drawn) three in the first Race, next three in the second Race.
