GENERAL INFORMATION

SOCHI AUTODROM SPECIFICS

- Sochi Autodrom is the first and only circuit in Russia hosting a Formula 1 Grand Prix.
- It has a modern infrastructure suitable for holding international motorsport competitions of the highest level.
- It is the only Russian circuit that operates all year round.
- The circuit is integrated into the Olympic Park built for the 2014 Winter Olympic Games.
- The external infrastructure of the Olympic Park includes modern hotels of various categories and a convenient transport system around the airport with numerous railway and road junctions.
- It has permanent team buildings located opposite team garages. This allows competitors to operate without their motorhomes, thereby considerably simplifying logistics.
- The Sochi Autodrom race control building has a video control system with Real-Time Full HD technology, consisting of 56 screens. The video surveillance system is based on 45 Speed Dome trackside cameras.

GENERAL INFORMATION

SOCHI AUTODROM OPERATIONS

Sports and Motorsport Competitions

Since Sochi Autodrom opened in September 2014, the circuit has hosted many competitions. Apart from the Formula 1 Grand Prix, the circuit hosts international, national and regional racing competitions every year. The circuit has also been a venue for triathlons, cycling races, athletic competitions and fitness days.

Commercial Services

The track facilities allow to provide various commercial services all year round. The circuit guests have a wide range of activities and professional racing programmes to choose from. The Sochi Autodrom team includes the best instructors and extreme driving experts. The Mercedes-AMG Experience racing programme, race taxi and master classes in a car with an instructor are popular among the guests and residents of Sochi. There is also a drift school offering courses by drift world vice-champion Arkadiy Tsaregratsev and a motorcycle school. During the Sochi Autodrom tours, the guests can learn the history of the Russian Grand Prix and have a closer look at the circuit facilities. Furthermore, Sochi Autodrom is an excellent venue for commercial and corporate events. Sochi Autodrom offers various sponsorship packages and attractive advertising space to potential partners.

2019 FIA FORMULA ONE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

The FIA Formula One World Championship is the most prestigious and popular racing series on the planet. It dates back to 1950, the current season is the landmark 70th. In addition, this year's Chinese Grand Prix was the landmark 1000th FIA Formula One World Championship race.

In 2019, there are 10 teams competing in world championship with two cars each. Each team must independently develop its chassis, while the engines can be supplied by a third-party manufacturer.

The monocoque is made of carbon fiber and composite materials and is designed to withstand maximum loads while having minimum weight. Engine: turbocharged 1.6-litre V6. Energy recovery systems are used. Total power of the power unit exceeds 950hp. Minimum weight of a car without fuel is 740kg.

The FIA Formula One World Championship is held every year and consists of separate rounds, having the Grand Prix status (the 2019 season comprises 21 rounds with the Russian Grand Prix being the 16th). At the end of a year, the winners are determined for the Drivers' and Constructors' Championships.

The FIA Formula One World Championship driver's title will be awarded to the driver who has scored the highest number of points, the best team will be awarded the FIA Formula One World Championship Constructor's title. Lewis Hamilton is the reigning world champion, and the Mercedes team was crowned the Constructors' Champions last year.

Daniil Kvyat competing for Toro Rosso is representing Russia in the 2019 FIA Formula One World Championship.

Race Weekend Format

Each of the 21 rounds of the 2018 FIA Formula One World Championship consists of three days. A race weekend starts on Friday with two 1.5-hour practice sessions (at the Grand Prix de Monaco they take place on Thursday). One more 1-hour practice session takes place on Saturday followed by a qualifying session.

Saturday's qualifying consisting of three elimination segments determines the starting grid for Sunday's race. At the end of Q1 which lasts for 18 minutes the five slowest drivers are eliminated from qualifying and the rest advance to Q2 (it lasts for 15 minutes), at the end of which the ten fastest drivers get a chance to fight for pole position in the final segment (12 minutes).

A race takes place on Sunday. Its distance is at least 305km (the only exception is the Grand Prix de Monaco) and duration does not exceed two hours. The top ten finishers score points, according to the following scale: 25-18-15-12-10-8-6-4-2-1. In addition, one point will be awarded to the driver who achieved the fastest lap of the race, provided he was in the top ten positions of the final race classification.

2019 FIA FORMULA ONE WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

CHANGES IN THE REGULATIONS FOR 2019

Aerodynamics: in 2019, the Formula 1 cars got a whole number of aerodynamic updates. The front wing became much simpler, 200mm wider and 20mm higher. The barge boards directing the flow around the car were simplified as well — the barge boards became smaller. Compared to 2018, the Formula 1 car rear wing became 20mm higher and 100mm wider. The DRS opening was increased by 20mm.

Car weight and fuel: the minimum weight of the Formula car, without fuel, in 2019 went up slightly from 733kg to 740kg. In addition, the drivers may now use up to 110kg of fuel in a race, while last year the allowance was 105kg.

Driver weight: the minimum weight of a driver in 2019 is 80kg. The drivers who weigh less have to compete in Grands Prix with ballast making up for the difference. This was done to deprive small and light athletes of advantages over the tall and heavy ones.

Tyres: in 2019, Pirelli decided to divide all its dry-weather tyres into five categories from C1 (the hardest) to C5 (the softest). Only three of them are used at each championship event. They have markings of the respective colour – red for Soft, orange for Medium, white for Hard. However, tyre specifications may vary depending on the characteristics of the Grand Prix.

Biometric gloves: in 2019, each driver competes in special gloves, which in real time monitor such indicators of the driver's body as his pulse and the amount of oxygen in his blood. This was done so that in case of an accident, the rescue team can receive data on the status of the driver as quickly as possible.

Helmets: The FIA developed a new racing helmets standard for 2019. These helmets have ballistic protection and high-level energy absorption, they are made of special composite materials, which are crush resistant. The front of the visor has been lowered by 10mm to reduce the risks associated with impact from debris.

Additional lights: additional lights on the F1 car rear wing endplates were introduced in 2019. This was done to increase visibility of cars during wet sessions.

Overtaking on race restarts: overtaking on race restarts is not allowed until a driver has crossed the finishing line – rather than the earlier safety car line as previously.

Fastest lap point: from 2019, the driver who sets the fastest lap of the race gets one extra point provided that he finished in the top ten.

Scrutineering: from 2019, the teams conduct scrutineering themselves on Thursday (at the Monaco Grand Prix on Wednesday), after which they submit a declaration that they are in compliance with the technical regulations to the FIA. The FIA has the right to make random car checks during a Grand Prix. If there are any breaches, the FIA can request to eliminate them or impose a penalty.

FORMULA 1 GRAND PRIX DE MONACO 2019

MONTE CARLO

Date	23-26 May	Race Distance	260.286km
Circuit Length	3,337m	Number of Laps	78

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? The whole race Lewis Hamilton in the lead was pursued by Max Verstappen. With four laps to go, the Red Bull driver decided to attack, but almost collided with his competitor. Hamilton went on to win the race. And Verstappen was handed a penalty for unsafe release from a pit stop and as a result was classified only fourth.

FORMULA 1 PIRELLI GRAND PRIX DU CANADA 2019

MONTREAL

Date	07-09 June	Race Distance	305.270km
Circuit Length	4,361m	Number of Laps	70

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? Sebastian Vettel finished first. But on the last laps of the race, under pressure from Lewis Hamilton, he ran off the track, in the process squeezing Hamilton when he re-joined the track. The stewards considered the move unsafe and awarded a five-second race time penalty. The win was handed to Hamilton.

LE CASTELLET

Date	21-23 June	Race Distance	309.690km
Circuit Length	5,842m	Number of Laps	53

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? The round was dominated by Lewis Hamilton. The championship leader showed strong form in qualifying, taking the pole 0.2 seconds ahead of his rival, and in the race, he took a lights-to-flag victory. One of the memorable events of the Grand Prix was Sebastian Vettel's poor performance in qualifying - the Ferrari driver managed only seventh.

SPIELBERG

Date	28-30 June	Race Distance	306.452km
Circuit Length	4,318m	Number of Laps	71

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? Red Bull's home round turned out to be one of the most interesting races of the season. Max Verstappen had a poor start and lost six places, but then came through the field and eventually took the lead three laps to the finish line, having had a contact with Charles Leclerc when overtaking him. This episode was later reviewed by the stewards, but they decided to take no further action - Verstappen kept the win.

FORMULA 1 ROLEX BRITISH GRAND PRIX 2019

SILVERSTONE

Date	12-14 July	Race Distance	306.198km
Circuit Length	5,891m	Number of Laps	52

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? The race was marked by a battle between Lewis Hamilton and Valtteri Bottas. Prior to the first pit stops, the Mercedes teammates fought for position, but after changing tyres, different racing strategies divided the contenders. The safety car after Antonio Giovinazzi's accident also played a role. All this together allowed Hamilton to win. Another memorable moment of the race was a collision between Sebastian Vettel and Max Verstappen.

FORMULA 1 MERCEDES-BENZ GROSSER PREIS VON DEUTSCHLAND 2019

HOCKENHEIM

Date	26-28 July	Race Distance	306.458km
Circuit Length	4,574m	Number of Laps	67

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? The German Grand Prix took away the status of the main thriller of the season from the Austrian race. In this race, everything came together: changeable weather, championship leaders running off the track and having accidents, risky tactical moves, a desperate fight and an unexpected podium of Daniil Kvyat, who gave Toro Rosso its second ever top 3 finish. Max Verstappen was the first at the finish line, like in Austria.

BUDAPEST

Date	02-04 August	Race Distance	306.630km
Circuit Length	4,381m	Number of Laps	70

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? The first half of the championship ended with the triumph of Lewis Hamilton. The leader of the season started third, but was able to quickly overtake his teammate Valtteri Bottas, and then set off in pursuit of Max Verstappen who was leading the race. It was more difficult for him to beat the Red Bull driver. Lewis was helped by an extra pit stop - he left the pits 20 seconds behind the leader, but the speed of the Mercedes car and fresh tyres allowed him not only to catch up with Max, but also to take away his first place.

FORMULA 1 JOHNNIE WALKER BELGIAN GRAND PRIX 2019

SPA-FRANCORCHAMPS

Date	30 August - 01 September	Race Distance	308.052km
Circuit Length	7,004m	Number of Laps	44

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? The race in Spa was marked by Charles Leclerc's maiden win. The Ferrari rookie won qualifying and was fast in the race. However, it was not just about speed – during the race, at the team's request, he was let through by his teammate Sebastian Vettel.

In addition, the Belgian Grand Prix was Alex Albon's first race for Red Bull. The debut was a success – due to a penalty for replacing the engine, Albon started 17th, but made his way to fifth place.

FORMULA 1 GRAN PREMIO HEINEKEN D'ITALIA 2019

MONZA

Date	06-08 September	Race Distance	306.720km
Circuit Length	5,793m	Number of Laps	53

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? Charles Leclerc took his second consecutive win in Monza. The round will be remembered for its bizarre qualifying, in the last segment of which most of the drivers were late to start their final laps, and Lewis Hamilton's spectacular but unsuccessful attack on Leclerc in the race.

FORMULA 1 SINGAPORE AIRLINES SINGAPORE GRAND PRIX 2019

SINGAPORE

Date	20–22 September	Race Distance	308.706km
Circuit Length	5.063m	Number of Laps	61

What will the Grand Prix be remembered for? In Singapore Sebastian Vettel took his first win this season. Starting from third, Ferrari's German driver had an early pit stop and thanks to fresh tyres took the lead, which he kept until the end of the race.

FORMULA 2

Formula 2 is the main formula championship for young drivers on the planet, the last step before Formula 1. The history of Formula 2 started at the end of 1940s.

The FIA Formula 2 Championship was created in 2017 from GP2. In its short history, it has already established itself as the optimal training ground for the world's most promising drivers, taking the final step on the way to Formula 1 - any driver's main goal.

George Russell was crowned the F2 champion last year. He got a well-deserved opportunity to get into F1, joining the Williams team in 2019. At the same time, the young Brit is a Mercedes Junior Driver, and perhaps he will one day get into the most decorated Formula 1 team of recent years. Lando Norris and Alexander Albon, who were second and third last season, also moved to F1.

10 teams are currently competing in the Formula 2 championship, each of them has two cars. All the competitors use the same cars. The Dallara F2 chassis meets all the Formula 1 safety requirements, including the Halo.

The power unit is a 3.4L V6 turbo Mecachrome having up to 620hp. Pirelli continues to supply its tyres for the championship. They ensure a fantastic racing spectacle and require tyre saving skills drivers require to advance in the world of motorsport.

The 2019 Formula 2 full-season competitors include Russian driver Nikita Mazepin driving for ART Grand Prix. Another Russian Artem Markelov competed for MP Motorsport in the Monaco round, and his fellow countryman Matevos Isaakyan will make his Formula 2 debut driving for Sauber Junior Team by Charouz in Sochi.

Race Weekend Format

On Friday there are a 45-minute practice session and a 30-minute qualifying session. The latter determines the starting grid for Saturday's race which lasts for 170 km or 60 minutes.

During the Saturday race each driver must make one compulsory pit stop. After it, the first ten finishers score points, according to the following scale: 25-18-15-12-10-8-6-4-2-1. The pole seater gets 4 points, and the fastest lap gives 2 points.

Sprint Race is run over 120km or 45 minutes on Sunday. The grid is determined by the finishing order of the Saturday race: the top 8 positions are reversed, that means the driver, who finished eighth on Saturday, will start from the first position, and the winner – from the eighth position.

The top eight Sunday finishers score points as following: 15-12-10-8-6-4-2-1. The driver who sets the fastest lap scores 2 points.

If the driver who set the fastest lap finished the race outside the top 10, the driver who has the fastest lap time among those who finished in the top 10 gets 2 points.

SUPPORT RACES

FORMULA 3

Formula 3 is a new feeder series for Formula 2 and Formula 1. Formula 3 dates back to the late 1940s – early 1950s.

In 2019, the FIA Formula 3 Championship is held for the first time since the merger between the GP3 Series and the FIA Formula 3 European Championship. 10 teams are competing in it, they have 30 cars in total. This is the maximum number of cars that can fit on the starting grid at many circuits.

All the competitors use the same cars. The Dallara F3 chassis is equipped with a 380hp 3.4 six-cylinder naturally aspirated Mecachrome engine. The cars also have the Halo head protection device which was not used in GP3 and the Formula 3 European Championship. Pirelli tyres are used.

The 2019 Formula 3 full-season competitors include Russian driver Robert Shwartzman driving for PREMA Racing. Shwartzman is also part of the Ferrari Driver Academy. Another Russian driver Artem Petrov drove for Jenzer Motorsport in Bahrain.

Race Weekend Format

A race weekend consists of a 45-minute practice session and a 30-minute qualifying session on Friday and two races with a duration of up to 40 minutes, one on Saturday and one on Sunday. There are no compulsory pit stops in Formula 3.

Qualifying determines the grid for the Saturday race. After it, the first ten finishers score points, according to the following scale: 25-18-15-12-10-8-6-4-2-1.

The pole seater gets 4 points, and the fastest lap in Race 1 gives 2 points.

The Sunday race grid is determined by the finishing order of the Saturday race: the top 8 positions are reversed, that means the driver, who finished eighth on Saturday, will start from the first position, and the winner – from the eighth position. The top eight Sunday finishers score points as following: 15-12-10-8-6-4-2-1. The driver who sets the fastest lap scores 2 points.

If the driver who set the fastest lap finished the race outside the top 10, the driver who has the fastest lap time among those who finished in the top 10 gets 2 points.

ENTERTAINMENT CONCERTS

For three days in a row there will be concerts of Russian rock 'n' roll stars held in the Central Square of the Olympic Park. The admission will be free to all the 2019 Russian Grand Prix guests.

The Leningrad band will kick off the musical programme on 27 September. Last year, Sergey Shnurov and his team already performed during the Grand Prix and gathered nine thousand people in the Bolshoy Ice Dome. It comes as no surprise that Leningrad, following an event guest survey, was found to be the most anticipated act this year. The concert during the Formula 1 event will be one of the few remaining opportunities to see the musicians from Saint Petersburg perform. The group is on a stadium tour now, which, according to the statement made by Sergey Shnurov, will become the last in its history. The Leningrad concert will start at 20:00.

On 28 September, the Mumi Troll band will come out on the stage in the Olympic Park. This summer, Ilya Lagutenko and his group released their new single "Summer without the Internet" and in October and November they will go on tour in the USA and Canada. The concert at Sochi Autodrom will be the only concert that the band from Vladivostok will give in Russia this autumn. It will start at 19:00.

A performance by Diana Arbenina and The Night Snipers will wrap up the sixth Russian Grand Prix in style. Last year, the team celebrated its 25th anniversary and is now on an anniversary tour in Russia and abroad. And in July 2019, the team released its 10th studio album "The Unbearable Lightness of Being". The Night Snipers concert will start at 18:00, after the Formula 1 race finishes.

There will also be two concerts in the Sirius Science and Art Park, which media representatives can attend for free as spectators or to film them subject to sending a request. On 25 September, leading soloists of the Saint Petersburg House of Music Fedor Amosov (cello) and Andrey Telkov (piano) will perform as part of the Musical Inflorescence festival. On 27 September, there will be a concert of Otto Sauter and Ten of the Best. The band consists of musicians of the highest level from the Vienna State Opera, the Royal Opera in Stockholm, the Gothenburg Symphony Orchestra, the Czech Radio Symphony Orchestra, as well as other world-famous trumpeters from Europe, the USA, Mexico and Japan. Both concerts will start at 19:30.

On 28 September, the Radisson Blu Resort & Congress Centre will host the Mercedes-Benz Star Night official party featuring Lewis Hamilton, Valtteri Bottas and first Russian Formula 1 driver Vitaly Petrov. It will include performances by Grammy nominee Craig David and Black Star record label singer Nazima. The event will start at 20:00.

FESTIVAL OF THRILL AND ENGINES

During four days of the Russian Grand Prix in the Olympic Park, the Festival of Thrill and Engines will be held on three sites.

The Sochi Gymkhana Challenge drift and gymkhana competitions will take place as part of the festival. They will feature Arkadiy Tsaregradtsev, Nikita Shikov, Fedor Vorobyev and many other famous Russian drivers. The sessions will be held on a parallel track, where two drivers will be constantly drifting. Separate competitions of prepared drift and Zhiguli cars are planned, as well as super finals among the strongest in each class.

Another site will host a show by the FMX-13 freestyle motocross team and the Legend Stunt Team stunt riding team. These are the strongest teams in Russia and one of the best in Europe, their shows are constantly evolving and this year they will show new stunts at the festival.

There will also be a site with radio-controlled cars, which will be twice as big as last year.

ENTERTAINMENT

F1 FANZONE

---

The Formula 1 playground divided into several zones will operate in the Olympic Park during all four days of the Russian Grand Prix.

The E-Sports Game Zone tent will have modern high-tech simulators where spectators can find out what it feels like to be a racing driver and drive Formula 1 cars.

In the Pit Stop Challenge zone, Russian Grand Prix guests will try themselves as mechanics and will be able to compete for the fastest racing car wheel change.

In the Reaction Challenge tent, you can compare your reaction time with the reaction time of Formula 1 drivers.

All the guests will be able to take pictures with a giant Emirates helmet and purchase Formula 1 teams' merchandise in the F1 Fanzone. Heineken activities will be nearby.

HOCKEY

On 26 September, a Kontinental Hockey League game between Sochi and Dynamo (Moscow) will be held in the Bolshoy Ice Dome in the Olympic Park. The game will start at 19:30. Media representatives can attend the game for free as spectators.

RUN THE TRACK

On 28 September, the Sochi Autodrom racetrack will host the Refuel in Sport charity run organised by 2019 Russian Grand Prix sponsor Lukoil.

Part of the proceeds will go towards the development of children's motorsport. The distance of the run will be 5,555 m. The run will start at 21:00. Media representatives can participate in the run for free subject to registering for it in advance or attend it for the purpose of filming.

ACTIVITIES FOR CHILDREN AND ADULTS

The Formula 1 round will be a real family holiday. There will be many sites open in the Sochi Olympic Park, where adults and children will be able to spend time during the race weekend.

These will include karting, a giant 3D puzzle, face painting, the "World of Illusions and Magic" attraction, a graffiti show, "The Greatest Race" art exhibition, VTB, Lukoil and Beeline activation zones, Sochi Auto Sport Museum, photo zones and objets d'art and much more. Also, exciting competitions featuring young champions will be held in the runbike zone, dancers will perform in the special Dance Zone, as well as musicians, mimes, stilt walkers and drummers.

PIT LANE WALK

On Thursday, 26 September, guests of the Russian Grand Prix will be able to walk along the Sochi Autodrom pit lane and watch the Formula 1 teams prepare for the upcoming sessions. The pit lane walk will be held from 9:00 to 13:00. There is a separate pit lane walk time slot for VIP guests - from 15:00 to 16:15.

ENTERTAINMENT

AIR SHOW

---

The Russian Knights aerobatic team will demonstrate their skills to the guests of the Olympic Park. Practice flights are scheduled for 27 September with the main performance taking place on Saturday, 28 September. The programme includes aerobatics involving four Su-30SM aircrafts, then paired on-coming synchronous aerobatics and single aerobatics. A bell, a barrel roll, a corkscrew and other manoeuvres are expected to be performed.

On Sunday, 29 September, the Russian Knights will fly over Sochi Autodrom before the start of the Russian Grand Prix race.

The Russian Knights is the only aerobatic team in the world that performs aerobatics on heavy fighter aircrafts. Su-30SM aircrafts that they use are in active military service with the air forces of the Russian Federation.

SOCHI TRAVEL GUIDE

Sochi is located on the Black Sea coast, about 1,600km south of Moscow. This is a unique corner of Russia combining all favourable resort and tourist aspects: a warm sea and 300 sunny days a year, clean mountain air, drinking mineral waters and a variety of historical and natural monuments.

The only subtropical resort city in Russia stretches for 145km along the Black Sea coast. The Greater Sochi area is divided into four districts: Adler, Khosta, Central and Lazarevskoye. The resort complex of Sochi is the largest in Russia.

The total area of Sochi is 3,500 sq.km. The population is 524,023 people (as of 01/01/19). However, the majority of the population lives on a narrow coastal line, while the mountainous area mainly belongs to the Sochi National Park and partly to the Caucasian Biosphere Reserve.

In summer, the average air temperature in Sochi is 26.5°, and the sea water temperature is 24.5°. The average winter air temperature is + 8°.

The main sights of Central Sochi are the Railway Station (56 Gorkogo St.), the Maritime Terminal (1 Voykogo St.), the Riviera Park (1 Egorova St.).

+7 800 100 33 99
Price: ₽2,000

After its opening, first theme park in Russia Sochi Park became one of the landmarks of the city. It is located next to the Olympic Park and attracts the attention of everyone who attends the Russian Grand Prix or watches Formula 1 on TV. Guests and residents of the resort often call Sochi Park "Russian Disneyland".

The park has more than 20 attractions. Some of them are more suitable for family holidays, while others will appeal to adrenaline junkies. The most extreme amusement rides are Fire Bird, Zmei Gorynich and Quantum Leap, the latter takes its visitors down from a 58m high hill reaching 105kph in the process. The park also has cafés and other activities.

A ticket to Sochi Park allows you an unlimited number of rides throughout the day. You will need separate tickets for the Wheel of Time and some thematic sites.

09:00 – 18:00

+7 862 267 16 46, +7 862 262 18 42

Price: ₽250

46.4ha of the Arboretum contain trees and shrubs brought from all over the world. Now the park's live collection has more than 1,800 species and forms, including a huge number of rare exotics.

The park is located on both sides of Kurortnyy Avenue. The upper part of the Arboretum, in addition to its historical centre, has landscape and geographical sections representing the subtropical forests of East Asia, North America, Australia, New Zealand. In its special enclosures, there are parrots, ostriches and peacocks. In its small backwater, there are swans and nutrias.

The lower part of the park is much smaller, but no less picturesque: hundreds of flowering plants, bamboo thickets, a rose garden, cascades of ponds. Decorative ducks, swans and pelicans live in perfect harmony near the water. Squirrels and nutrias can also be found here.

ORNITHOLOGICAL PARK

Ornithological Park (demonstration cluster No. 7)
1/3 Tavricheskaya St.
09:00 – 19:00

The Imeretinskaya Lowland, where Sochi Autodrom is located, is the habitat of many rare species of plants and animals and has the status of a key ornithological territory of international importance. And the Black Sea coast of the Caucasus, in general, is a unique migratory bird route along which most European species travel on their way to wintering and nesting sites.

A natural ornithological park has been created in the Imeretinskaya Lowland. It consists of 14 clusters, with a total area of 298.59 ha, where various landscapes are represented. During its work, experts discovered 184 species of birds, 19 of which are listed in the Red Books of Russia and the Krasnodar Region.

Some park clusters are closed to visitors, and in its open clusters you can watch birds in their natural habitat. Cluster number 7 is a demonstration one.
