Formula 1 Drivers' Parade

It is 100 years since the Austin 7 was introduced to the public in 1922. The Austin 7 was unique in so far as it was built using a production line – something that had never been done in this country, making it the first mass produced car in Britain.

The Austin 7 has been modified into a variety of racing cars over its 100 years and was the first race car for both Bruce McLaren and Lotus. This strong racing pedigree continues on and many Austin 7's are still raced today.

The Austin 7 Owners Club are providing the cars for this weekend's Formula 1 Drivers' Parade.
