WELCOME TO THE FORMULA 1 HEINEKEN LAS VEGAS GRAND PRIX

We are thrilled to welcome you to year three of the FORMULA 1 HEINEKEN LAS VEGAS GRAND PRIX. Our third year promises another incredible race, and we are working tirelessly to make this experience even more unforgettable than the years past.

A LOOK BACK: FROM VISION TO GLOBAL SPECTACLE

From the moment it was announced, we envisioned the Las Vegas Grand Prix as more than just a sporting event – it was imagined as a global showcase where the speed and thrill of motorsport meet the energy, spectacle and hospitality that only Las Vegas can provide. We are proud of how far we've come — this race has quickly cemented itself as one of the most anticipated destinations on the Formula 1® calendar.

The on-track action speaks for itself. Our inaugural year showcased drivers reaching speeds over 215 mph (346 kph) and a staggering 181 overtakes. Fans watched Max Verstappen sing “Viva Las Vegas” as he crossed the finish line and became the first driver to win an F1® race on the Las Vegas Strip Circuit®.

The 2024 race proved to be just as exhilarating with 113 overtakes, the most overtakes of the season, and Williams’ Alexander Albon hit a speed of 229.2 mph (368.8 kph); the top speed achieved in a race since 2019. One of the most memorable moments was crowning Verstappen with his fourth-consecutive World Drivers’ Championship. In 2025, the Drivers’ Championship is closer than ever — and we are excited to see the battle play out on the streets of Las Vegas.

IMPACT BEYOND THE TRACK

The success of our race extends well beyond the 3.8-mile circuit. In just two years, the Las Vegas Grand Prix has generated nearly $2.5 billion in combined economic impact, solidifying its position as the largest recurring event in Las Vegas.

In 2024 alone, the event generated $45 million in tax revenue, benefiting the state of Nevada and Clark County. This included $15.5 million allocated specifically to the state’s school system.

WHAT YEAR THREE HAS IN STORE

The third year of the Las Vegas Grand Prix represents a turning point – a chance to build on the excitement from the first race, recalibrate from the lessons of the second, and build for the future. As you experience this year’s race, you will see the dedication of our entire team who continue to raise the bar. We listened to fans, locals, partners and media.

Promoter

We worked tirelessly to refine every element, from the session times on the track to our product mix and activations. Our goal is simple: to set a new standard for what a Formula 1 event can be and create an unparalleled experience.

This year, we have several new additions in place to achieve that goal:

- ✦ GREATER TICKET ACCESSIBILITY FOR FANS: We offered fans our lowest prices to date at on sale in March and introduced flexible payment plans to make the race more accessible. We offered single-day ticket options starting in August for the first time. We've also developed a ticket donation program, allowing fans to gift unused tickets to select non-profit programs.
- ✦ EARLIER START TIMES: To engage more U.S. fans, especially on the East Coast, and following feedback from both teams and media, all session start times have been moved up two hours earlier. Last year, lights out was at 10 p.m.; this year, it'll happen at 8 p.m. local time. This not only drives more viewership but also expands opportunities for fans to explore Las Vegas after the race.
- ✦ NEW TICKETED PRODUCTS ALONGSIDE RETURNING FAN FAVORITES: This year, our new ticketed experiences include the all-new Hello Kitty Grandstands near turn 3. Additionally, the enhanced Heineken Grandstands offer all-inclusive beer and access to the Heineken® Stage. We've also expanded access between the Koval Zone by Heineken® and the East Harmon Zone by Virgin Hotels Las Vegas. This means more opportunities for fans to enjoy activations, the Heineken® Stage and only-in-Vegas fun.
- ✦ F1 ACADEMY™: The all-female series will conclude its season on the Las Vegas Strip Circuit®, becoming the first single-seater support series to race on this iconic stage. All ticket-holding fans can enjoy the F1 ACADEMY sessions and witness the crowning of the F1 ACADEMY champion.
- ✦ ONLY IN VEGAS ENTERTAINMENT AND MOMENTS: Our T-Mobile Zone at Sphere Stage and Heineken® Stage will feature a stellar lineup, including acts of the likes of T-Pain, mgk, Shaggy, Zedd, Dillon Francis, and many more. We'll also see electrifying entertainers, Louis Tomlinson, Kane Brown, VAVO, DJ Pee .Wee, Steve Aoki, and Kaskade on the Grid on Saturday.
- ✦ F1 BUSINESS SUMMIT: The F1 Business Summit will take place on Thursday, November 20 at Wynn Las Vegas, uniting leading voices across sports, entertainment and business for an afternoon of high-profile panel discussions and networking. Attendees will hear from industry innovators, including Stefano Domenicali, Toto Wolff, Susie Wolff and other influential executives as they explore global growth, cultural impact and the future of sports.

ONE YEAR OF GRAND PRIX PLAZA

In spring 2025, we opened Grand Prix Plaza, North America's largest and most dynamic Formula 1® attraction. Open seasonally, Grand Prix Plaza is set within the 39-acre, multi-use complex that houses the state-of-the-art Las Vegas Grand Prix Pit Building. The entertainment destination features more than 100,000 square feet of ticketed F1® attractions, including F1® DRIVE, F1® X and the F1® HUB. Grand Prix Plaza isn't just home to the race; it provides a consistent touchpoint with the sport through educational and interactive experiences when we aren't racing. We welcomed many guests in our first season, and hope to welcome many more when we reopen in early 2026. You may see some of the Grand Prix Plaza attractions around the circuit this weekend, and we look forward to sharing more with you.

FINAL THOUGHTS

As we embark on another incredible race weekend, we hope you feel the same excitement and anticipation that fuels us in bringing this event to life.

To our returning media, thank you for the professionalism, energy and passion you bring to your coverage. To those covering the Las Vegas Grand Prix for the first time, we are thrilled to welcome you and excited to see the stories you will tell.

Here's to three years of incredible memories already made, and to many more still to come. May this year's race deliver excitement, history and moments we will all remember forever.

Sincerely,

President and Chief Executive Officer, Las Vegas Grand Prix, Inc.

LAS VEGAS STRIP CIRCUIT® DETAILS

START-TO-FINISH

The beginning and end of the 3.8-mile (6,201 meter) Las Vegas Strip Circuit® is also where pit lane and the team garages are situated. From the Heineken® Silver Main Grandstand and Skybox, you can enjoy the view of the pre-race ceremonies on the grid, the thrilling 'lights out' start, the checkered flag at the end of 50 action-packed laps, and a great glimpse into the action of the team garages. In 2024, Esteban Ocon overshot his Alpine garage and was forced to drive the entirety of the pit lane — and complete another lap — before he could change tires.

TURN 1

The distance from pole position to Turn 1 is just 656 feet (200 meters), meaning a lot can happen in this short run at the start. In the race's inaugural year, Red Bull's Max Verstappen snatched the lead from pole-sitter Charles Leclerc — but only after both ran wide. Behind them, Fernando Alonso spun his Aston Martin in the middle of the pack, while Valtteri Bottas and Sergio Pérez collided. Further back, Carlos Sainz also spun his Ferrari after tagging Lewis Hamilton's Mercedes.

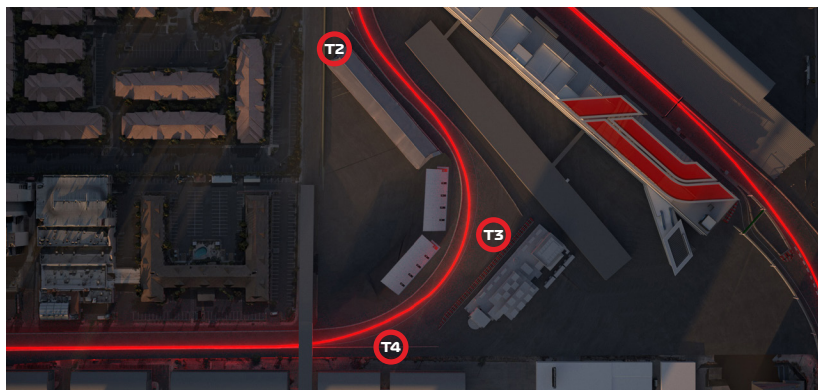

Promoter

TURNS 2-4

Accelerating through this section from 77 to 130 mph (123 to 209 kph), the track weaves left, then right around Turn 3 Club and the Hello Kitty® Grandstands before the short straight down Koval Lane. Drivers shift from third to sixth gear through this sequence. It was here that Charles Leclerc made a brilliant pass on his former Ferrari team-mate Carlos Sainz at the start of the 2024 race. Leclerc, who had qualified fourth, managed to pass Pierre Gasly into Turn 1 before executing a textbook double move.

The blast into the first DRS zone can be viewed from the Heineken® Grandstands in the Koval Zone by Heineken or the Flamingo Zone by Caesars Rewards Zone further down the straight.

TURN 5G

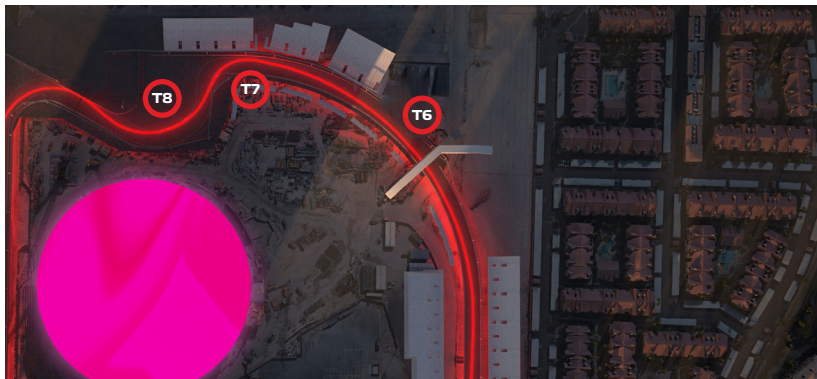

At the end of the Koval Straightaway, drivers brake sharply for the second-gear, 65 mph (104 kph) right-hander — Turn 5G, as the drivers enter the festival-like atmosphere of the T-Mobile Zone at Sphere. This corner is one of the most challenging on the track, especially when temperatures are cool, and grip is low. During 2024 qualifying, George Russell tapped the outside wall here with both left-side tires. It cost him time, but he made amends on his final run, brilliantly snatching pole by 0.098 seconds from Carlos Sainz.

Promoter

TURNS 6-8

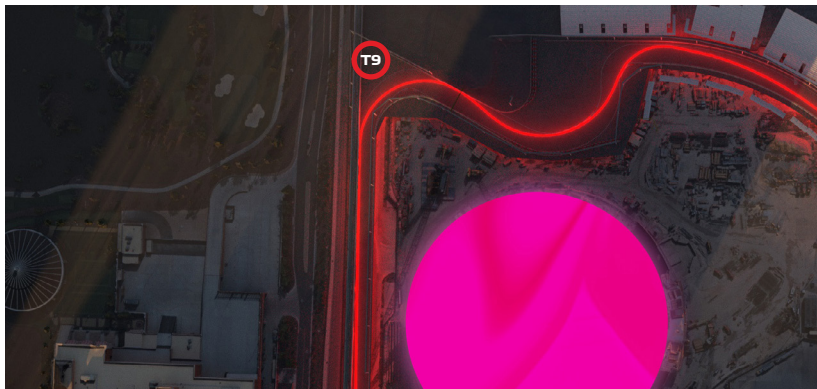

From the T-Mobile Zone at Sphere Grandstands, watch as the cars accelerate into the long left-hander at Turn 6, reaching eighth gear at speeds approaching 150 mph (214 kph). The braking point for the slow-speed Turn 7-8 chicane is tricky, and mistakes are common. Last year, Charles Leclerc executed a brilliant opportunistic move up the inside of Sergio Pérez here, taking fourth place on lap 17.

Promoter

TURN 9

As drivers exit Turn 9 and accelerate onto Sands Avenue under the glow of Sphere, where the famous yellow emoji “Orbi” watches over them. Here, drivers must remain focused as they remember one of the 48 gear changes they’ll make each lap.

TURNS 10-11

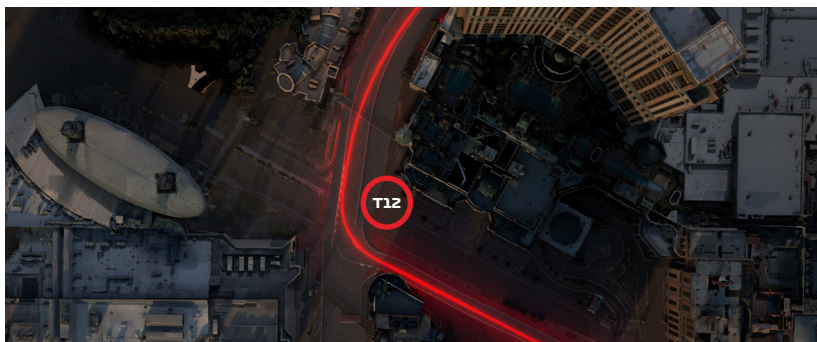

These corners are taken flat-out in eighth gear, snaking between legendary Las Vegas resorts Wynn and Encore Las Vegas and The Venetian Las Vegas. At Turn 11's apex, speeds reach approximately 180 mph (289 kph) before drivers brake hard for the left-hander at Turn 12, just before turning onto the iconic Las Vegas Boulevard. 79% of this lap is taken at full throttle.

Promoter

TURN 12

In 2023, the Safety Car was deployed after just three laps when Lando Norris lost control of his McLaren on the approach to this quick left-hander. Later in the race, Max Verstappen dived to the inside of his rival George Russell here, resulting in contact and debris that triggered another Safety Car. In 2024, Lewis Hamilton could only manage P10 on the grid after making a mistake at this corner in qualifying. He had been fastest on Friday and made amends in the race, finishing second behind teammate George Russell in a Mercedes 1-2.

TURN 13

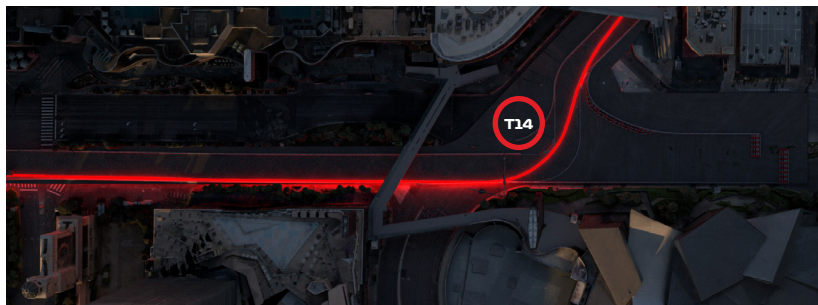

The high-speed kink of Turn 13 is located a third of the way down the famous neon-lit Strip, just before the second Drag Reduction System (DRS) zone. In 2024, Max Verstappen and Carlos Sainz went wheel-to-wheel almost the entire length of the straight in an exciting early-race duel. Verstappen eventually finished fifth, enough to secure his fourth World Drivers' Championship title.

Promoter

TURN 14

Thanks to the second DRS zone, the left-hander at the end of the Strip, taken at 55 mph (88 kph) in second gear, is the prime overtaking spot on the circuit. In 2023, the lead of the race changed hands here four times. On lap 37, Max Verstappen retook P1 from Leclerc to set up victory in the inaugural Las Vegas Grand Prix. But Turn 14 had one final twist, when Leclerc made a thrilling last lap pass on Sergio Perez to secure second place to the delight of the on-looking fans. Leclerc experienced 7G in deceleration force during the lunge, earning the 2023 Overtake of the Year.

URNS 15-16

Promoter

TURN 17

The final corner on the Las Vegas Strip Circuit® is a fearless, flat-out left-hander taken at full throttle at 195 mph (313 kph), with the pit lane entrance on the inside. Last year, Carlos Sainz was coming into the pits just ahead of Lewis Hamilton, and the Lewis Hamilton Grandstand, but stayed out after a last-second radio call from his team, who were not ready. "Wake up, guys!" Sainz exclaimed. He went on to finish on the podium behind the two Mercedes.

2025 FIA FORMULA 1 WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP™ RULES & REGULATIONS

RULE CHANGES IN FORMULA 1® IN 2025

Seven rule changes for the 2025 season — from fastest lap to increased rookie running.

1. REMOVAL OF THE FASTEST LAP POINT

Since 2019, a driver finishing in the top 10 could earn a bonus point by setting the fastest lap of the race. Sometimes that meant drivers would still be pushing late on trying to take the accolade, or even make late pit stops for fresh rubber to increase their return.

But it also opened up the possibility for a car outside the top 10 to pit and take the point away from another driver, even if they weren't going to score themselves. And with the bonus sometimes proving a controversial topic, the decision was taken to remove it from the scoring system this year.

The rest of the points system remains unchanged, with the top 10 drivers scoring in a Grand Prix, and the top eight in a sprint.

2. DRIVER COOLING SYSTEMS

If a weather forecast predicts temperatures of 31C or above at some time during a Sprint or Grand Prix, a Heat Hazard can be declared. Teams will subsequently be notified by the FIA of the declaration and will be required to fit a mandated driver cooling system.

This, in turn, leads to an increase in the weight limit of the cars with two different limits applied – an additional 2kg for practice, Qualifying and Sprint Qualifying sessions, but a total of +5kg for a Sprint or Grand Prix.

The two different weight limits are in place to allow teams to fit the base system to ease workloads, but without needing to fill it with cooling fluid — as it is not considered necessary to mandate use of the system in a practice or qualifying type session due to the shorter run nature of these sessions.

A driver cooling system is “defined as a system, the sole purpose of which, is to provide additional cooling for the driver,” and is set to be delivered in the form of a fireproof shirt that allows a fluid to be pumped around a series of tubes. It also includes a pump, plumbing and a thermal store to generate the cooling (such as an ice block).

2. LIMITS TO RACE DRIVERS TESTING OLD CARS

A year ago, there was a tweak to the Testing of Previous Car (TPC) regulations as teams had to use components that had run during a race weekend at least once. This time around, the changes relate to the drivers getting behind the wheel.

While teams can carry out up to a maximum of 20 days of TPC running in any given calendar year, their race drivers are only allowed to take part in four such days, during which they are not allowed to exceed 1000km of running in total.

The restriction only relates to TPC track time — using a car that is at least two seasons old — and not tyre testing or promotional running with current machinery.

Teams are also only allowed to have one TPC car available to run during a test at any one time.

4. MORE RUNNING FOR ROOKIES

The mandatory FP1 running for rookie drivers has been expanded for 2025, ensuring double the amount of track time during a race weekend for those who have participated in no more than two F1 races in their career.

Teams have had to run a rookie at least once in each of their cars — so on two occasions total — each season since 2022, but as of this year that number increases to twice per car. So, with each team made up of two cars, that means four occasions during the year when they will run an inexperienced driver for the first practice session of a weekend.

5. TIGHTER RESTRICTIONS ON DRS DESIGNS & WING DEFLECTIONS

The FIA has tightened up the technical regulations surrounding the rear wing and DRS (Drag Reduction System), with the main changes focusing on defining the state of deployment and restriction to only two positions (closed and open).

This has been brought in to close off “mini-DRS” concepts — where the top elements of a rear wing tilt backwards at speed to reduce drag.

There will also be more stringent testing of the rear wing slot gap to limit how much deflection is acceptable, up from an applied load of 10 newtons to 30 newtons.

Other related areas that are still pending approval by the F1 Commission include a new deflection limit on the upper rear wing, to reduce the gap allowed between the rear wing profiles and the rear wing tips. Similarly, stricter limits on front wing deflection limits were introduced from Round 9 (Barcelona) onwards.

6. TWEAKS TO QUALIFYING CLASSIFICATIONS

Last years’ São Paulo Grand Prix raised the possibility of qualifying not being possible due to the weather, and it has now been written into the regulations that, as long as the stewards accept that a qualifying session can’t take place, the grid for the race will be defined based upon the Drivers’ Championship classification.

Promoter

The same applies for a Sprint Qualifying session not being able to take place. In both cases, if the Drivers' Championship order can't be used (such as the first round of the season) then a grid order will be decided at the stewards' discretion.

The way a qualifying classification will be reached in the event of multiple drivers failing to set a time in Q2 or Q3 (or SQ2 or SQ3) has also been clarified.

While drivers will continue to be ordered based on whether they started a flying lap, ahead of those who left the pits to make an attempt, if there are any drivers who don't set a lap time and can't be separated by those metrics, then the order from the previous segment of the session will be used.

As an example, if two drivers start flying laps in Q3 but fail to complete them due to a red flag and don't set a time, then they will be classified in the order based on who was fastest between them in Q2.

7. A MULE CAR TYRE TEST

The end-of-season test in Abu Dhabi will take on a slightly different form this year, due to the major change in regulations that will come into force in 2026.

While the Young Driver Test will run as usual — with a current car being used by a driver who has started no more than two Grand Prix — the second car has to be a mule car that is adapted for the purpose of testing the 2026 tyres.

Those tyres will be of a different dimension and specification to the 2025 Pirelli rubber, and the expected performance characteristics of the next generation of cars will also differ, so teams can use either their 2025 car, or any car falling within the previous four years, that has been "suitably modified for the purpose of providing the appointed tyre supplier with a means of track testing of its future products."

POINTS & CLASSIFICATION

The top ten finishers in each Grand Prix score points towards both the drivers' and the constructors' world championships, according to the following scale:

POSITION	1ST	2ND	3RD	4TH	5TH	6TH	7TH	8TH	9TH	10TH
POINTS	25	18	15	12	10	8	6	4	2	1

SPRINT EVENTS

The F1 Sprint returns for a fifth season in 2025, and fans will again see six F1 Sprint events, in: Shanghai, Miami, Spa, Austin, São Paulo and Lusail.

A Formula 1 weekend is usually run (though not always) over Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Over the three days, the F1 cars appear on track for five sessions. A standard weekend has three Free Practice sessions (FP1, FP2 and FP3) lasting an hour each, another hour for Qualifying – which sets the grid for the Grand Prix – and then the Grand Prix itself.

On a Sprint weekend, two of the practice sessions are deleted and replaced. A Sprint Qualifying session sets the grid for the Sprint – that replaces FP2 on a Friday afternoon. The Sprint itself replaces FP3 on Saturday, before Qualifying for the Grand Prix happens as normal in the afternoon.

With limited Free Practice running the pressure is on to get the set-up right first time, and with extra points available in a Sprint weekend it's even more intense.

The top eight finishers in each Sprint race score points, with eight points rewarded for 1st place, 7 for 2nd place, six for 3rd place and so on.

The F1 Sprint has consistently proven its popularity since its introduction in 2021, with the format delivering strong numbers across all traditional broadcast, digital and social platforms, as well as providing extra and exciting racing that promoters can offer to the fans and bringing large attendances on the Friday of a Sprint weekend.

So far in 2024, live audience figures for Sprint Qualifying and the Sprint race at the Chinese Grand Prix were up 40% across the top 15 markets compared to the average practice sessions for the opening two races.

The live broadcast of the Sprint in Miami drew in 946,000 viewers on ESPN, making it the largest ever US audience for a Sprint since the format was introduced in 2021, and in Austria this year, live viewership of Sprint Qualifying was up 76% versus the FP2 sessions in the last two European races.

Stefano Domenicali, President and CEO of Formula 1, said: "The Sprint has been a great success for Formula 1, bringing all our fans more action and racing on the track. We are seeing the proof of this in our audience data, fan attendance on Fridays and from the promoters and partners.

"As we prepare to celebrate our 75th anniversary in 2025 we will always celebrate our incredible history, but we must always be looking ahead, innovating, and improving to deliver the best for our growing and diverse fanbase." "The Sprint is a great example of bringing new elements to our sport in a way that is respectful of the Championship, and I want to thank the six venues that will host the Sprint in 2025 and look forward to those incredible events throughout the season."

Mohammed Ben Sulayem, President of the FIA, added: "As the FIA Formula One World Championship celebrates its 75th anniversary in 2025, the Sprint will also enter its fifth year as part of the competition.

"Over that time, and through our strong collaboration with Formula 1 and with the input of all the teams, it has been through several different iterations and the regulations and format have evolved to give us the exciting and popular Sprints we have today.

"The six events for 2025 once again take in an interesting range of circuits and are sure to provide fans with plenty of additional action across the season."
