All accredited journalists and photographers must register at their respective Media Receptions upon arrival at the circuit. The reception staff will assist with internet access, seating allocations, and locker assignment.

ISDN Lines

These are available only by pre-order; the set-up cost is as for a standard line.

Internet

A public internet network will be available in the FIA Media centre. This network will provide an Ethernet hand off point at most locations as well as a wireless network.

Telecoms Centre

Standard phone line services will be available to media if required at the receptions. Also located at reception will be spare computers with internet and printing access should they be required.

Lockers

Free lockers are available on request from the team at each Media Reception. Each locker can be set to a personalized code. Instructions for setting the code are available from reception.

Catering in the Media Centre

Sandwiches as well as light snacks, coffee, hot drink, and soft drinks will be available from Thursday through to Sunday and hot food on Saturday and Sunday in the media kitchen located in the FIA Media Centre.

Car Parking

The International Media Car Park, for permit-holders only, is located at the Golf Course.

Access to this Car Park is through Gate 5, the entrance on Kings Way. When you leave your car, walk towards the overpass and across the pontoon towards Melbourne Walk and the Media Centre is the two-story building straight ahead of you.

The National Media Centre Car Park, also for permit-holders only, is at the 'Village Green' at the southern end of the circuit and is accessed from Gate 10 via Fitzroy Street.

Nikon and Canon will be located downstairs in the FIA media centre.

2022 Formula 1® Heineken® Australian Grand Prix: Race Report

DOMINANT LECLERC BEATS PEREZ TO AUSTRALIAN GP WIN AS VERSTAPPEN RETIRES

Charles Leclerc won the 2022 Australian Grand Prix to consolidate his and Ferrari's championship leads as Max Verstappen suffered a second retirement in three races – Red Bull team mate Sergio Perez finishing second and Mercedes' George Russell completing the podium.

Driver of The Day Leclerc kept his rival Verstappen at bay through two Safety Cars – the first when team mate Carlos Sainz spun out, and the second on Lap 23 after Sebastian Vettel's crash. The threat dissolved on Lap 39 when Verstappen stopped with his engine on fire, allowing the Ferrari driver to cruise to victory over Perez with fastest lap to boot.

The race as it happened

For round three of the championship, we had Charles Leclerc lining up on pole for Ferrari against two Red Bulls – Max Verstappen from P2 and Sergio Perez from P3 – while team mate Carlos Sainz was ninth on the grid. With track temperatures rising past 40 degrees Celsius, the lights went out. Verstappen suffered a millisecond of wheelspin, allowing Leclerc to retain the lead into Turn 1, while Hamilton swept into third at Perez's expense – and Russell into fourth in front of Norris.

Sainz's qualifying misery was compounded on Lap 2 – the Spaniard having dropped down to P14– where he tried to pass Alfa Romeo's Zhou Guanyu around the outside of Turn 9 and spun into the following corner's gravel to trigger a Virtual Safety Car that evolved into a Safety Car.

Safety Car in for Lap 7, Leclerc dropped the hammer with Verstappen and Hamilton right in his tow down to Turn 1. Perez soon loomed large in Hamilton's mirrors and on Lap 10 he scythed past down the inside of Turn 3 for P3. Norris and homecoming team mate Daniel Ricciardo, holding steady in P7, turned the wick up and were reeling in the Mercedes pair ahead.

Meanwhile, Hamilton's pace on mediums had taken a turn and now Perez was under pressure from the seven-time champ. The Mexican was called in to box at the start of Lap 21, as was Norris. Leclerc, however, still hadn't pitted – and Verstappen was on the charge in P5. The Monegasque driver finally came in on Lap 23 and was ahead of the reigning champion, although the gap between the two had been halved from 8s to 4s.

Hamilton followed suit with Leclerc and, on cold hard tyres, he was just milliseconds ahead of the Mexican – the pair going side by side onto the lakeside run to Turn 9 when Perez made a stunning move around the outside. The timing couldn't have been worse for Hamilton as the Safety Car came out – Vettel having spun on power out of Turn 4 and hit the wall, ending a torrid weekend for the four-time champion, who had missed the first two races due to Covid-19. The timing was perfect for Russell as he chose Lap 23 to pit under caution, emerging third – ahead of still-to-pit Alonso. Preparing to restart from P6 behind Perez, Hamilton asked: "What does that mean, I've lost position?"

The race restarted a second time on Lap 27, the whole field on hards, but Leclerc's start was glacial out of the final corner with Verstappen almost alongside into Turn 1. The Ferrari crucially held on to the lead, but not by much, allowing Russell to attack the Red Bull – but the top three was unchanged as the hard tyres warmed into their window.

On Lap 39 came the answer to that question when Verstappen peeled off at Turn 2 and launched the steering wheel out of his smoking RB18 as he gestured marshals to put the fire out. The VSC was Race Control's answer to the Dutchman's bad luck – a second DNF in three races. Leclerc would cruise to victory from then on, the margin totalling to more than 20 seconds – with the fastest lap giving him another point.

Perez took P2, five seconds ahead of Mercedes' Russell – while Hamilton was left cursing his luck in P4. Crucially, the Silver Arrows once again outscored Red Bull in the fight for P2 in the constructors' standings. As for McLaren, they ran a lonely race to P5 and P6, Norris just 0.4s ahead of homecoming teammate Ricciardo at the flag – the Australian having run as high as P4 before his Lap 22 stop for hards.

Ocon had a straightforward journey to P7 for Alpine having pitted once on Lap 18 – but team mate Alonso had a far rockier ride on Sunday. Running as high as eighth when Ocon pitted, the Spaniard cooked his tyres and fell down the order having battled in a midfield train with the lap counter ticking down to 58. Pitting for mediums with four laps left, he ended up last of the runners in P17.

Valtteri Bottas started 12th and found it hard to make early in-roads, but finished eighth for Alfa Romeo, briefly losing out to AlphaTauri's Pierre Gasly but hitting back on Lap 40. In an attempt to pass then-P9 Lance Stroll, Bottas was barged off track but continued on for another points finish.

Gasly therefore finished ninth from 11th on the grid, ahead of Albon – who ran 57 laps on hard tyres before pitting. The Williams driver, having started last thanks to a grid penalty from Saudi Arabia, made it as high as P7 and lost just three places with his late pit stop. Alfa Romeo's Zhou Guanyu was solid but came up short for the final point thanks to Albon's brilliant strategy.

Stroll, given an academic penalty for crashing into Nicholas Latifi (P16) in qualifying, started P19 but finished P12 on hard tyres having pitted for mediums on the Lap 4 Safety Car, swapping back to hards one lap later. He was, however, given a five-second penalty for weaving ahead of Bottas in defence of P9 on Lap 42.

Behind Stroll was Mick Schumacher, the Haas driver running wide on Lap 12 and again on Lap 50 – but passing Magnussen, who pitted for from hards to mediums with 20 laps remaining, late on. Magnussen was battling for the final point but outmanoeuvred himself on Lap 17 – and was summoned to the stewards post-race for an on-track scuffle with Alonso.

Yuki Tsunoda started 13th on mediums and briefly battled for the final points-paying position, but ended up 15th as his pace waned on hard tyres. That left Williams' Nicholas Latifi 16th after his qualifying crash, and Alonso last on the board from P10 on a trying Sunday.

Verstappen, Vettel, and Sainz were the three retirements – but it was the former's DNF that gave Leclerc free reign on Sunday as he stretched his and the Scuderia's championship leads.
