

Emma Cornwell

Emma is the Head of Publishing at NRMA, overseeing all commercial and editorial content across print and digital channels in addition to the commercial Online Shop and NRMA's entertainment business.

Emma is passionately instrumental in strengthening products across all NRMA's business units via print, digital and i-Pad applications. As such, the content NRMA produces across all channels now speaks to over 15 million people per year.