

Marga de Jager

Marga has worked for ANWB since 2006 moving from Director - Corporate marketing, to Director - Club Activities and Marketing.

Experience gained in a broad variety of positions, portfolios and organizations has enabled her to develop into an all-round and overall leader, who seeks to position the organization in the best way, based on its identity, with a focus on relevance to its members and the development of its staff.

Her current responsibility is to develop relevant products and services, while also providing information and assistance in a way that makes members feel valued.
