

M.E.RIN

M.E.RIN is a leading manufacturer of safety and flexible fuel cells on an international level. Merin designs, produces and tests advanced fuel cell systems by in house engineering and tooling.

Today, after 20 years of activity, Merin has become renowned in particular because of its focus on quality and customer service, achieved by a continuous research of new materials and technologies together with a unique proactive attitude and flexibility when answering clients. Recently, the company has signed new agreements, notably with European and winning teams such as VW, Toyota, Skoda, SEAT, Peugeot-Hansen, Ferrari and Lamborghini. In the motor sport field, Merin is particularly proud to be involved in the WRX, WRC, R5, Rally Raid championships and Historic Challenge.

The company is also now developing new performing structures geared to acquire new agreements in the DTM and Le Mans championships.
