Bulletin 4 - Driver Cooling

For the avoidance of doubt, the Stewards wish to clarify that it is possible for a Driver Physio to use a cooling fan in the pit lane to blow cool air on to the Driver whilst he is in the cockpit of the race car.

Please note that the cool air stream must be directed only at the Driver. It is not to be used in any way to cool the race car.

Any suspected breaches of the above will be reported to the Stewards and viewed as a potential breach of Article 21.5 of the Sporting Regulations.
