WHERE SG60 MEETS SGP16

What's in a number? The simplest figures may conceal some complex stories.

Formula 1 is in a very good place right now as it celebrates its rich 75-year history, and so are we in Singapore.

This year has brought the 60th anniversary of Singapore's independence, a landmark date in the island city-state's long history, and one which Singaporeans have embraced warmly as 'SG60'.

We hope you will join us in embracing a smaller but equally important number for the Singapore Grand Prix: the 16th running of Formula 1's first night race. While our own history began in 2008, fate decreed that we lost two years of track activity during the pandemic. You might say we have been doing what all serious racing drivers do: making up for lost time.

We have recently had good reason to celebrate. In February, Singapore GP Pte Ltd won the Formula 1 'Fan Experience' award for delivering the season's best overall experience for its fans, an accolade that means a great deal to all of us here.

Making the Marina Bay weekend an unforgettable experience, in as many ways as possible, for everyone who comes here is at the heart of what we do. With F1 on the crest of a wave of worldwide popularity, we are determined to ride that wave by constantly adding off-track enjoyment to the guaranteed excitement on-track.

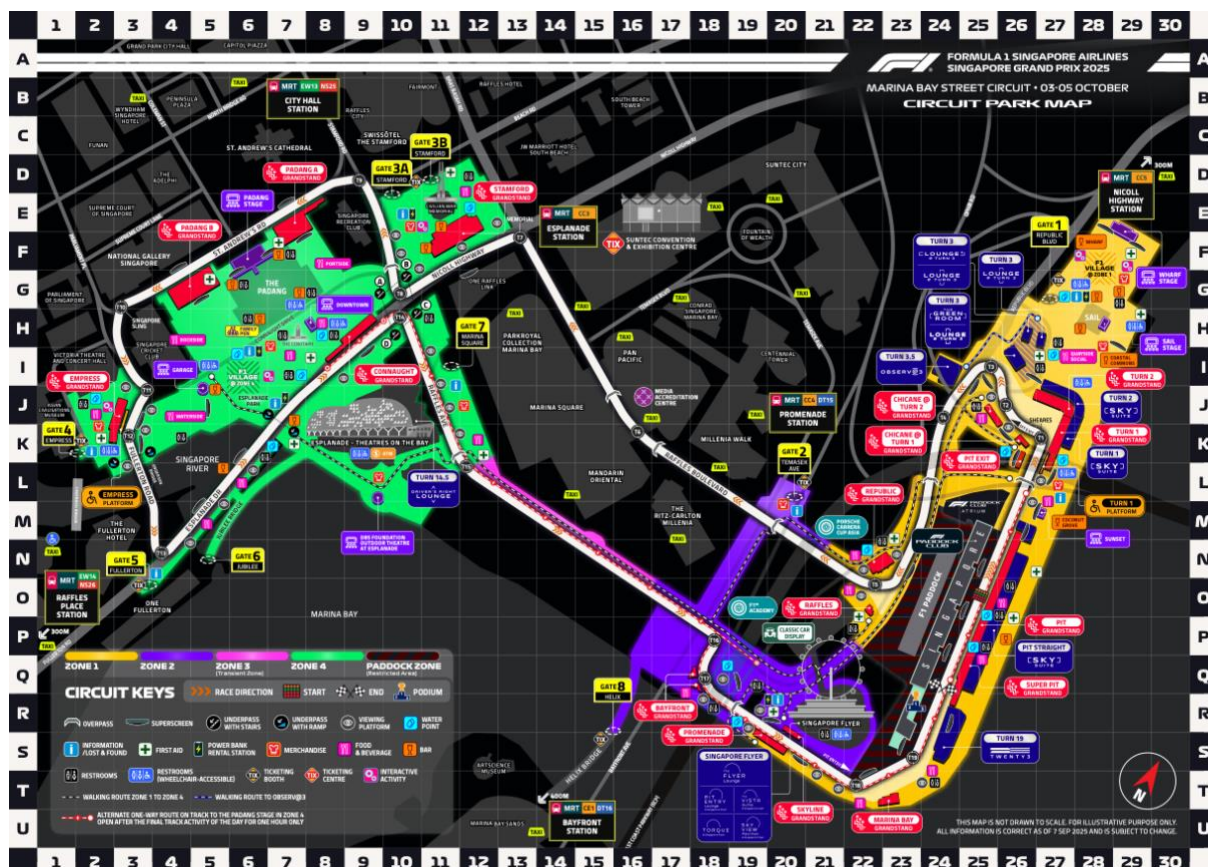

Returning to the numbers, they are taken very seriously in the F1 world. McLaren recently celebrated their 200th Grand Prix win, the only team apart from Ferrari to reach that remarkable figure; earlier this year the youngest-ever F1 winner, Max Verstappen, marked his 200th Grand Prix for his Red Bull team; in July F1 had its own 75th birthday party at the very good place where it all started, Silverstone. What significant numbers might emerge from Singapore this weekend?

To those of you who have been here before, welcome back! And to all those joining us for the first time, a special word of welcome to the Marina Bay experience.

WHAT'S IN A NUMBER?

Over 17,700 enthusiasts visited our first ALL ACCESS Experience in July, before the Formula 1 Singapore Airlines Singapore Grand Prix 2025 weekend began, to enjoy unprecedented insights into what makes up a Formula 1 weekend and gained a better understanding of Singapore's rich motor racing history.

#RevUpSG pop-up festival continued across the heartlands, welcoming over 11,000 visitors with F1-themed interactive activities at our Watch Party screenings of the Italian and Azerbaijan Grands Prix.

Trackside, new concept zones further enhance the weekend experience. Zone 4 has a Bumper Car set-up to get the adrenaline flowing, while another striking addition is a 24-metre-long ship at the Sail Stage. As we look back on SG60, the tongkang vessel, a familiar sight in Singapore's early years, will act as a stage against a backdrop of Boat Quay. Its Peranakan-themed sails acknowledge the city's multi-cultural identity.

Zone 1 will feature an all-new Quayside Social, with colourful food and beverage huts just steps away from the waterside.

A 24m-long ship forms the backdrop for American songstress Haley Reinhart at the Sail Stage.

Sir Elton John

When the track goes quiet, the decibel levels rise. Music has always taken centre stage, literally and figuratively, at the Singapore weekend and 2025's entertainment promises to be another star-studded affair. It reprises the familiar blend of old favourites and new stars, with over 140 hours of entertainment across 10 stages scheduled throughout the weekend.

Sir Elton John, Crowded House, and Foo Fighters are among the headline acts; G-DRAGON and Clean Bandit lead the contemporary charge; and soloists like Lewis Capaldi and Alan Walker complete the stellar line-up.

SINGAPORE GRAND PRIX 2025

Racing at night brings out the stars, both on and off the track. SGP16 is no exception: never have so many Michelin stars – the world’s most coveted culinary awards — been brought together at the Marina Bay Street Circuit. The chefs within the Circuit Park have a combined total of 28 Michelin stars amongst them.

Hospitality guests can choose from a variety of global cuisine with South Korea, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Thailand and of course Singapore showcasing regional dishes, while New York City, Catalonia and France complete the worldwide line-up.

Paddock Club guests will get to sample redefined local cuisine by Singaporean chef Jimmy Lim of 3-Michelin Star JL Studio.
